DAVID M. GOE, R. GOPPELSROEDER, R. R. WARD and B. J. HERMAN

College boys produced a circus of their own yesterday. The circus of the engineering school was held on the campus grounds of Armour Institute of Technology at Thirty-third street and Armour avenue.

There was McKensie Davison, the steel defying a-t-o-n-g man. A sham battle was fought in which aeroplanes, dirigibles, and a 42 centimeter gun figured.

FIRE TAKES ROESNER HALL, A SOUTH SIDE LANDMARK.

Bucket Brigade Fails to Save Structure Built Sixty Years Ago and Firemen Come Too Late.

A spectacular fire last night destroyed a two-story frame building at 1014-16 Vincennes road, causing a loss estimated at $12,000. The structure was built sixty years ago. It was first known as Roesner hall. The ground floor was occupied by the blacksmith and wagon repairing shop of Walter Long and Herman Henken.

A pedestrian saw smoke pouring from windows on the lower floor and called a number of the residents in the vicinity. They attempted to subdue the blaze with a bucket brigade, but the smoke forced them to retire. An alarm then summoned firemen, who fought hard to keep the blaze from spreading. A cottage next door, the home of Henry Goris and Peter Stephens and families, however, was destroyed.

Possibility that the fire may have been incendiary led Police Lieut. Matthew Homer to start an investigation. The fire, the lieutenant said, looked suspicious to him.

Co-operation Will Put Chicago at Head of World's List, Health Commissioner Says.

Cooperation in keeping Chicago a clean and healthy city was asked of members of the Rotary club of Chicago by Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson at the Hotel Sherman last night. "Co-operation," he said, "by all of the people all of the time will make Chicago the cleanest city in the world."

PROSPERITY CALLED CAUSE OF INCREASED IMMORALITY.

Professor of Social Diseases, Giving Reasons for Girls' Downfall, Shows 25,000 Vice Gain Yearly.

The tremendous prosperity of the last twenty years is held largely responsible for the increase of immorality among girls and young women, according to data submitted by Dr. Albert E. Mowry, professor of social diseases at the Hospital College of Medicine of Chicago. This contention is presented in the current number of the "Light," the publication of the World's Purify Federation.

"Effete civilization has outdistanced," says Dr. Mowry, "the old time cause, which principally were betrayal and poverty. Many girls are determined to ape their wealthier sisters at any cost."

Dr. Mowry gives the following table, compiled after long and careful research, as showing approximately the relative causes of immorality which he figures is increasing by 25,000 cases a year:

ROUNDS OUT FIFTY YEARS IN CATHOLIC CHURCH.

The Very Rev. E. V. Vattmann Holds Jubilee in Wilmette and Receives Congratulations.

The Very Rev. Edward J. Vattmann yesterday rounded out fifty years of service in the Catholic church, Wilmette, where his little home is situated, was the scene of an all day jubilee. Several hundred Chicago churchmen and laymen participated. Letters and telegrams from hundreds of persons associated with him during his life, much of which was spent as an army chaplain, came from all over the world.

President Wilson, ex-President Taft and Roosevelt, Pope Benedict XV., and numerous cardinals and archbishops sent congratulations. Several soldier comrades came from the Philippines. The morning at St. Joseph's church in Wilmette. The Rev. Francis C. Kelley, president of the Catholic Church Extension society, presided. Luncheon at noon in the church hall was served by ladies of the church and an entertainment by the children and the choir followed. At 4:30 a reception was given by the Catholic Woman's club at the clubhouses. The Knights of Columbus tendered a banquet last night in the Woman's club of Wilmette. Among those who spoke were Archbishop Sebastian Mesmer of Milwaukee, the Rev. William Netter, Congressman George Edmund Puse, Michael F. Glitten, and Mayor Oscar Smith. Mr. Vattmann is 75 years old.

Arrested in Woman's Washroom. John Brownstein, 57 years old, of 1311 South Millard avenue, a real estate dealer, was arrested yesterday in the women's washroom on the seventh floor of the city hall by Police-women Josephine Walsh and Mary Pitecki after he struggled with them to escape.

GOES TO CHURCH BAREFOOT, THEN PINS ON MEDALS

Frank Schmall's Wife Objects to His Scorn of Shoes for the Children.

It has become quite an event to the residents of Balesy court when Frank Schmall attends church of a Sunday morning. Children pause on the sidewalk to watch him go by and the goings of the court run to their windows with as much interest as if a parade were passing.

In reality Schmall resembles a cross between a G. A. R. procession and a Russian dancer. His chest is covered from shoulder padding to waistband with medals, and Schmall's ten twinkling toes—always twinkling—sprawl on the court run to their windows with as much interest as if a parade were passing.

Deserves All His Medals. The neighbors have come to the conclusion that Schmall deserves all the medals he has won, for no matter if the street be covered with slush or snow or ice, the churchgoer's shodless and sockless feet splash through the mud or slip along the ice.

It is Schmall's theory that shoes are as much out of place to the churchman as alpacas are in a hindoo temple. The medals he bestows upon himself and neighbors have noticed that a new one would appear particularly after an extremely cold and inclement Sunday.

Objects to Plan for Children. Mrs. Veronica Schmall, who does not care how often her husband frosts his feet or awards himself a medal if his passion leads that way, objected strenuously to the children being sent barefooted to church. If she yielded on this point she did not know but she might be the next whose footstep would be forbidden. So yesterday Mrs. Schmall complained to Mrs. Josephine Lawrence, superintendent of the social service department of the County Court.

Chance for Another Kind of Medal. "You know I don't mind his bare feet so much now that I've got used to them," she said, "nor do the medals worry me any more. He believes the medals are a sign he's a good church member. But he seems to think the children—small ones and all—should do the same thing and in all kinds of weather. They'll catch their death of colds and besides if they take up this medal business the medal bills will be enormous."

Mrs. Lawrence said she would have Schmall brought into court on some week day when he has his shoes on and would endeavor to show him how to win a medal as a model husband.

TANTAMOUNT TO WAR.

Indianapolis Ind., May 10.—(Editor of The Tribune.)—The statement of your Washington correspondent that the president wishes to hear from American citizens on the Lusitania incident suggests this letter.

It seems to me to be the president's duty to treat the incident as a case for police action and not for war. Congress should not be assembled, but all available cruisers and destroyers should be sent to the British channel with orders to furnish convoys to American shipping and to protect it at all hazards. Clearances should be refused to British vessels carrying both American citizens and munitions of war.

No diplomatic notes should be sent to or received from Germany. Ambassador Bernstorff should be ignored by the president and secretary of state. Ambassador Gerard should be instructed to have no communication with the German government on American subjects. An effort should be made to obtain a common agreement to withdraw their ministers from Berlin on the destruction of the next neutral vessel. Minister Dernburg should be requested to leave this country.

For readiness in case of emergency the president should order all the militia to training camps for the summer and call for a million volunteers to receive military training in their home towns. Later action might be determined by events.

W. W. HUBSON.

SUGGESTIONS UNHEEDED.

Chicago, May 10.—(Editor of The Tribune.)—If the government had given ear to the suggestions and warnings for preparedness that your great paper has advocated during the last two years undoubtedly the Lusitania incident would not have occurred—at least while Americans were aboard. Neither would we suffer the humiliating spectacle of the president playing golf and motoring at such a time in hopes of stalling off the just wrath of the people. It is not a much more pleasing spectacle than that of Von Bernstorff sneaking down back stairs.

My countrymen will furnish 3,000,000 votes for the next president, and they are united. This vote will not go to a straw man. Our next president must be a man full of spirit and able to represent 90,000,000 people. No matter whether Germany wins or loses, we are a factor in this great country, which we love. We ask for national honor, prestige, and fair play.

WANTS A WARM WATER PORT.

Chicago, May 8.—(Editor of The Tribune.)—In reply to Adolph L. Levy's question, "Will England help Russia to more territory?" the answer is that what Russia wants and needs badly is a seaport that is not ice bound nine months in the year. It is England which has curbed Russia from obtaining this privilege, and it is England which is responsible for the Turk being in Constantinople today. Give Russia a square deal and Germany need never fear Russia.

BOARD RIDDLES
DEFICIT FIGURES
OF MRS. YOUNG

Her $600,000 Swells to
$936,000 When Expenses
She Omitted Are Added.

Several members of the board of education, sitting yesterday as a finance committee of the whole to work on the budget, tried to determine whether Mrs. Ella Young, who maintained there is a prospective school deficit of $600,000, or Charles S. Peterson, who contended there is a deficit of $1,200,000, is right.

In the end it was decided to work on figures supported by Mr. Peterson. But another delay of several weeks was anticipated, until the figures for the school budget can be printed.

In addition to conflicting deficit figures, Ralph C. Oak brought up a circulated statement that there is no deficit. Mrs. Young explained that by saying that there will be no deficit until about Thanksgiving, and that the present is not the time to worry about it.

Mrs. Young forgets debts. Before the meeting closed Mrs. Young had learned that she had estimated total expenditure without counting debts of last year. These amounted to $112,000. With the December bills they totaled almost $200,000.

Mrs. Young's deficit figures then totaled $711,000. She said she expected to get some money from the county superintendent of schools, who thought there was an improper distribution of state school funds at the expense of Cook county. Secretary L. E. Larson said hope of securing that money had been abandoned. Jacob M. Lomb told Mrs. Young she had a lot of estimates of engineering supplies and office expenses of $81,000 and $31,000 respectively, bringing her deficit to $823,000. He said that she had estimated only $300 for printing, when the board voted to spend approximately $5,000 to get the budget printed alone.

Runs Deficit Up to $936,000.

Adding debts, exclusive of December bills, which will have to be paid this year, the deficit figures were brought up to $936,000. The principal debts are $31,408 for pensions, $12,000 for administration, $20,000 for instruction, and $47,000 for operation.

The rest of the difference in estimated deficits probably is due to estimates of increased expenditures for 1915 over 1914 which Mrs. Young did not consider. Secretary Larson was instructed to attempt to get the legislature to appropriate money to assist in the education of crippled children and children in special classes. There are bills to cover the situation, but the state has made no appropriation.

Today will be commercial department day in high schools and there will be demonstrations and exhibits in work done by students in commercial classes. The schools have invited business men to be among the speakers, who have been furnished by the Association of Commerce, are Edward M. Skinner, Edward E. Gore, W. R. Moss, John W. Gorb, Elmer Stevens, and John P. Mann.

ROCKEFELLER GAINS POINT IN TAX SUIT AT CLEVELAND.

Judge in United States Court Grants Injunction to Restrain Officials from Big Collection.

Cleveland, O., May 13.—John D. Rockefeller today won an important victory in his fight to prevent the collection of taxes on $311,000,000 in personal property by Cuyahoga county, when Judge John H. Clarke in the United States District court granted an injunction sought by Rockefeller to restrain the collection. The taxes sought to be obtained amounted to about $1,500,000, including a penalty of 50 per cent for failure to pay when due.

The assessment which is held invalid was made in February, 1914, when tax commissioners visited the Rockefeller summer home at Forest Hill here. They served papers on the oil magnate which alleged that he had remained in the county more than six months of the tax year and therefore, under the Ohio law, was a resident of Ohio for taxation purposes.

Judge Clarke decided that Rockefeller's contention that he intended to leave Cleveland in October, 1913, instead of remaining here until Feb. 3, 1914, due to the illness of Mrs. Rockefeller and her sister, Miss Lucy Spelman, was a valid excuse.

MRS. BROCKINGTON TRIED,
ACCUSED OF FRAUD BY GIRL.

Young Woman, Paid $250 on Vice Charge Settlement, Says Mrs. Meder's Fox Kept $158.

Mrs. Mary Brockington, who gained notoriety when she was arrested on complaint of Mrs. Leonora Z. Meder, commissioner of public welfare, on a charge of attempting extortion, and whose sanity was tested, was placed on trial yesterday, accused of operating a confidence game.

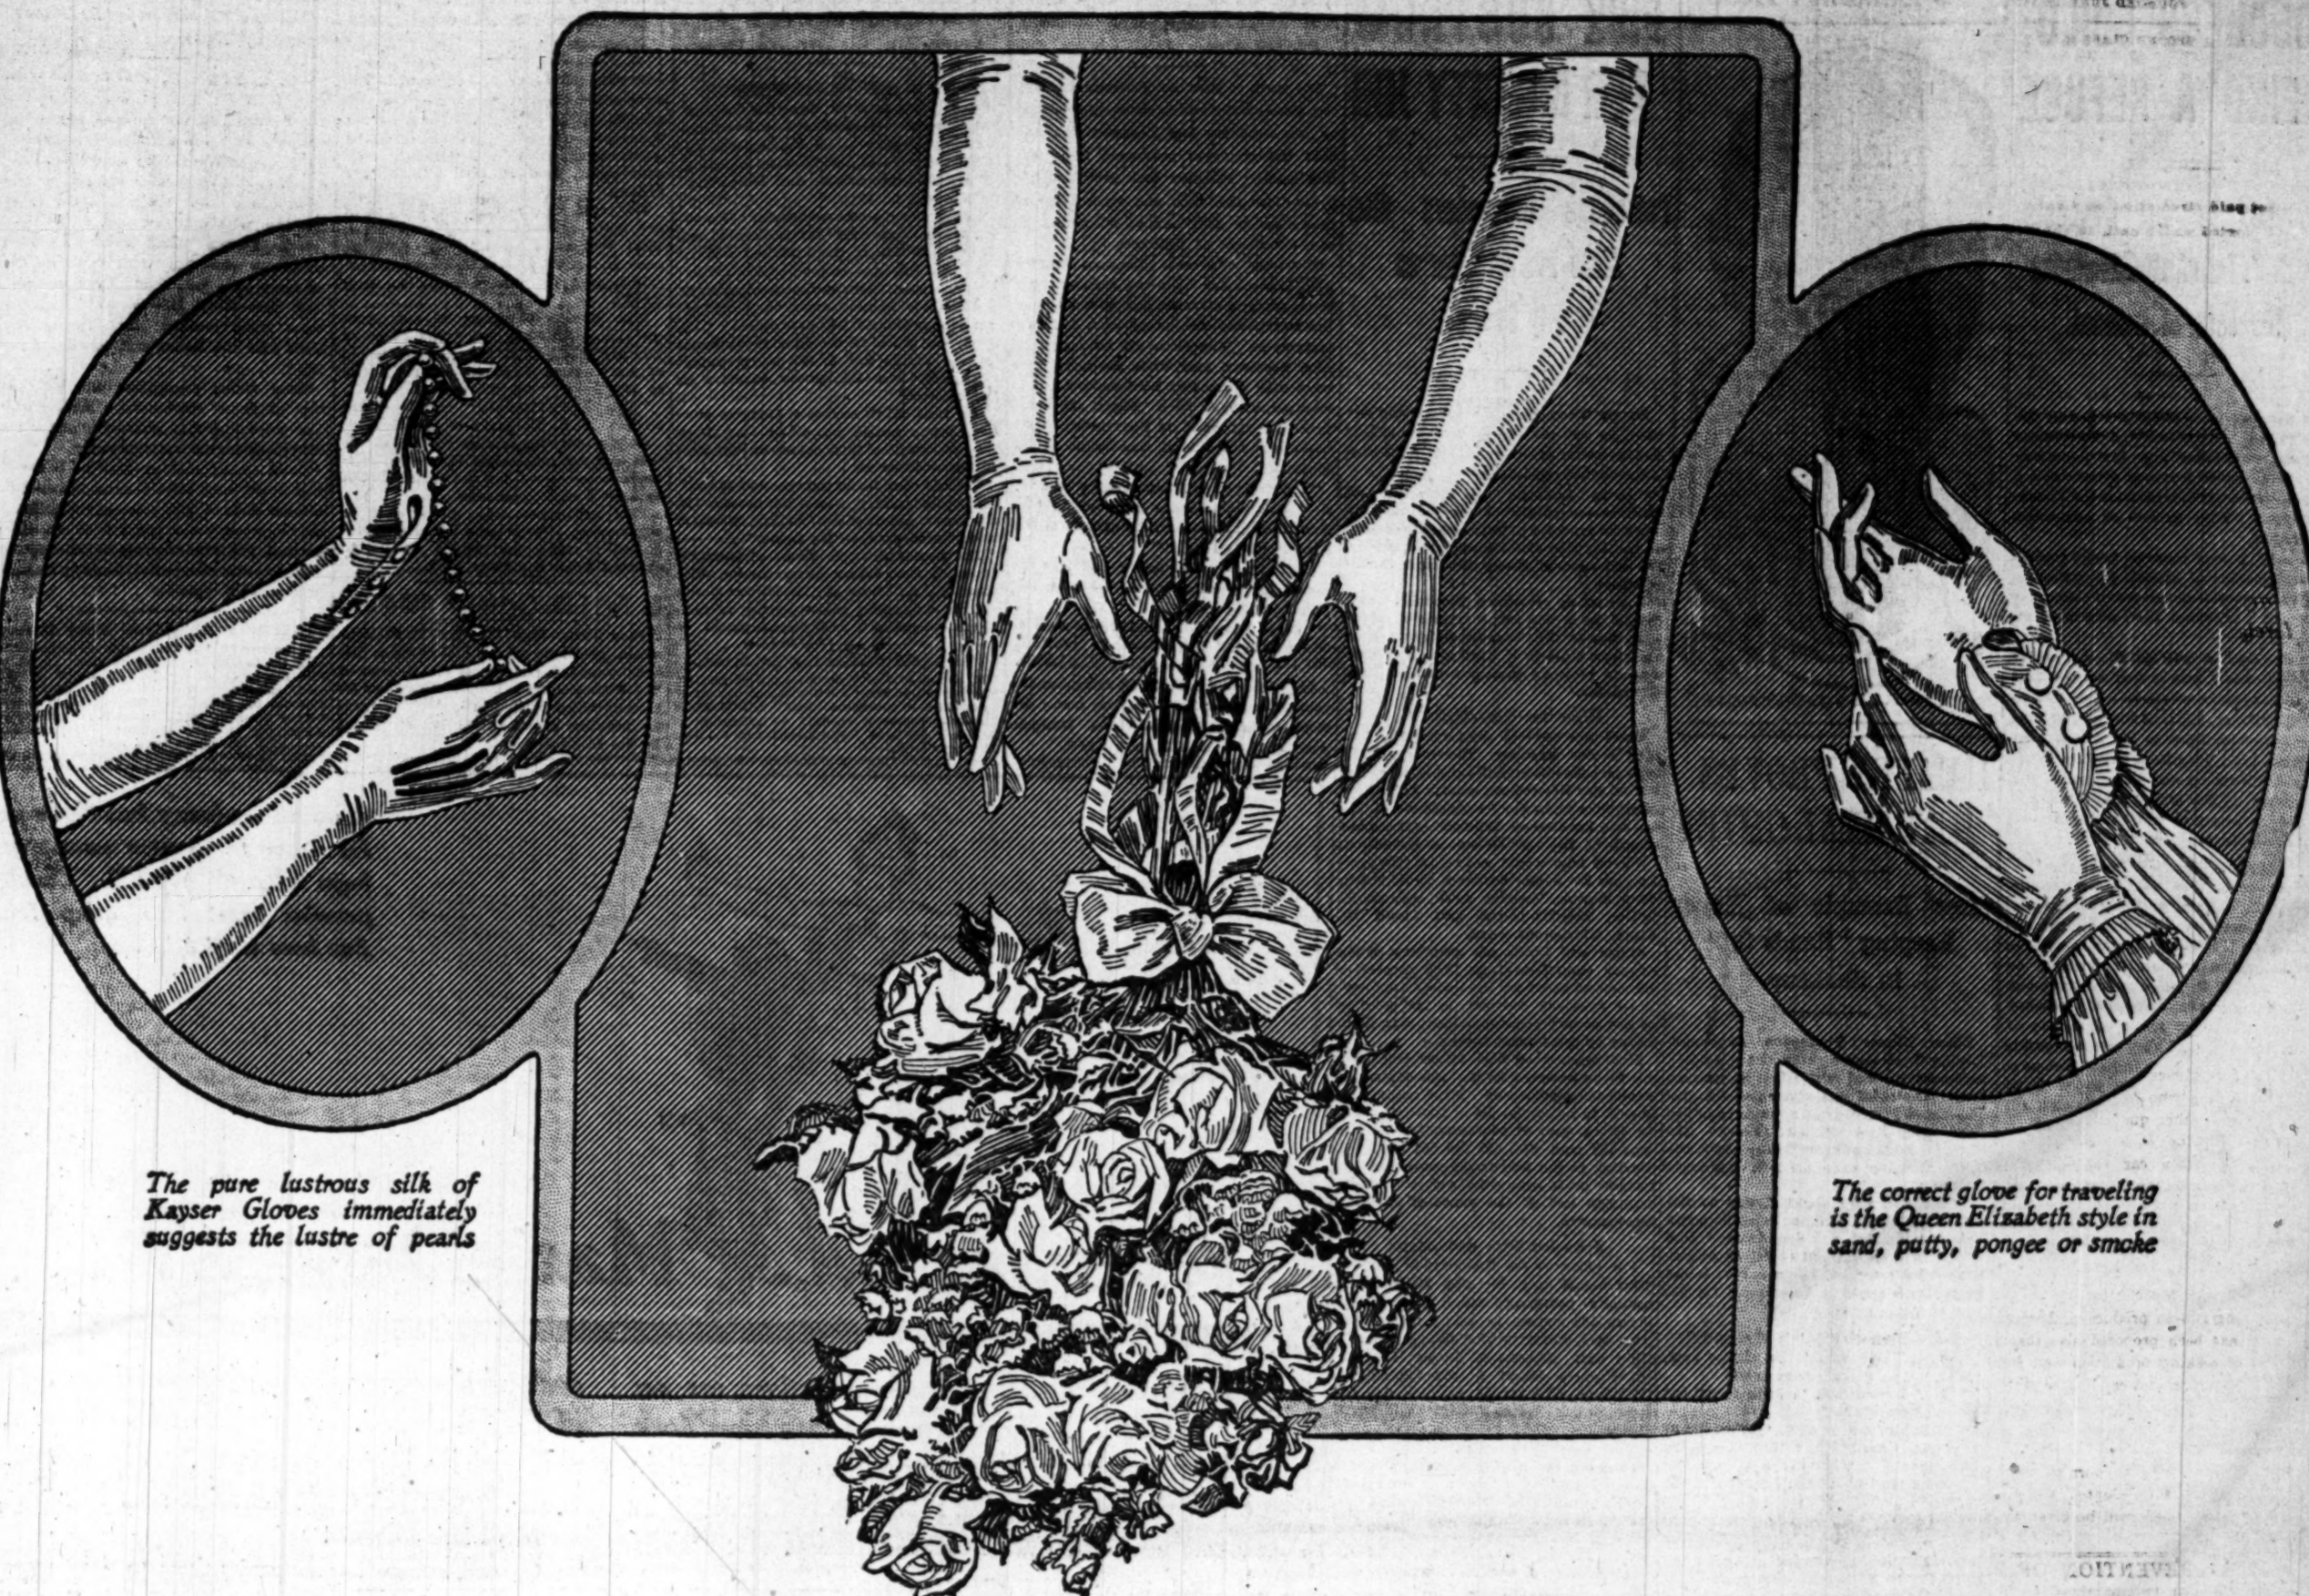

Elizabeth Buhlman of 4811 North Claremont street, alleges she was extorted out of $158. The girl contends $250 was paid her as settlement of a serious charge she brought against Louis Hertel Jr.

She declares Mrs. Brockington approached her and said she had been sent by Josephine Lawrence, who has charge of the department of investigation in the County court, to take up the girl's case against Hertel. Miss Buhlman says that when the settlement was made Mrs. Brockington took charge of the $250 and has since failed to return the $158.

JUDGES DODGE TOUCHERS' GUILD; FIND A REFUGE

Swamped by Gift Requests, G. O. P. Committee Assumes the Task of Refusal.

In addition to electing to stand by the convention nominations the Republican judicial candidates and the managing committee yesterday took drastic action to protect the candidates from the Touchers' guild. They named an anti-touch committee.

Already, it was reported to the conference, hundreds of appeals for money in various sums for all manner of charitable and other activities have swamped the candidates.

In desperation they laid the case before the conference, and it was decided that no such appeals would be considered by the candidates, but that they would have a special committee to handle these requests. Emil Wentzlauff, assistant secretary of the county committee, was named chairman of the anti-touch committee, and such requests will be courteously but firmly turned down by him.

Reverse Former Decision. In reversing their decision of the day before and deciding to stand on the convention nominations the Republicans explained that it was necessary in order to provide against any possible vacancy on the ticket. If they had elected to run on the petition nominations and a vacancy should occur there would be no way of filling the place. Under the convention nominations the central committee, as is provided by law, has the power to fill all vacancies. The Democrats will stand on the convention nominations.

Just how their names will appear on the official ballot is yet to be determined. The Chicago Bar association laid before County Clerk Switzer a resolution requesting that all sitting judges of both parties be placed at the top of the column.

Look Up the Law. The county clerk thought that a good plan, but whether he has the power so to do under the law is still in question. The Republicans hold that he has no discretion in the matter, but must place the names on the official ballot as they have been certified by the conventions.

The Republicans will hold their first ward organization meeting tonight in Pink's hall, 9140 Commercial avenue, Eighth ward. They will formally open the judicial campaign next week on the north side, when Mayor Thompson will speak for the ticket.

T. D. Hurley, who contends that the convention nominations are illegal, again filed his objections with County Clerk Switzer. County Judge Scully, and State's Attorney Hoyne, and asked that these three officials sit en banc to hear his argument.

CHARLES BOSTROM

HEALEY PROVES HE'S REAL CHIEF

Cites Example of Mayor Keeping "Hands Off" in Shakeup.

When Mayor Thompson appointed Charles C. Healey to head the police department he told him what he wanted done. The chief was given free rein, he announced yesterday at a luncheon of the Advertising Association of Chicago. He illustrated his power by telling about the police shakeup announced in Sunday's Tribune.

"Last Saturday night I was in the mayor's party at a dinner in his honor at the Chicago Athletic association," said the new chief. "About 10 o'clock, or perhaps a little earlier, I learned over to the mayor and asked to be excused for the rest of the evening."

Tells Him to "Stick Around." "O, stick around," the mayor said. "We'll all be going pretty soon." "No," I answered. "I have to get out a transfer order."

Admits His Opportunity. The new chief said he had the greatest opportunity before him that any chief has had because of the freedom from influence of all sorts which the mayor has accorded him. He said he had the cooperation of the Municipal Judges, through the promise of Judge Olson.

The new chief promised to give the advertising clubs an escort of 200 mounted men for their parade of national advertisers during the national advertising convention in June. He agreed to ride at the head of the squad.

MAYOR ADVISERS PICK BOSTROM FOR BIG CITY JOB

Patronage Dispensers Also Slate Morris Eller as City Sealer.

Mayor Thompson has tentatively decided on several additions to his official family, some of whom may be presented to the council next week.

Charles Bostrom, an architect and building contractor of the Twenty-fifth ward, is reported to be practically certain of the big post of building commissioner. He will succeed Henry Ericsson, the incumbent.

In selecting Bostrom the mayor and his advisers decided to name a representative of the Scandinavian voters, as had former Mayor Harrison. Mr. Bostrom is both an architect and building contractor.

Eller for City Sealer? There are several candidates for the city sealer position. The most likely man is believed to be Morris Eller, member of the Republican county managing committee from the Twentieth ward. He has the backing of William J. Cook and others of the anti-Denison organization.

Others who would not refuse this position are Dr. J. Garbenstein, Tenth ward; John Kantor, Twelfth ward; August W. Miller, Twelfth ward; and David W. Clark, Thirtieth ward.

Miller and Clark are members of the county committee from their respective wards and voted for the mayor's non-partisan judiciary program in the meeting of the county committee that was dominated by the Denison forces.

It is understood both Miller and Clark are to be annexed to the new cabinet in good positions later on. Mr. Kantor, also, is said to be on the list of those who will be taken care of subsequently.

Jobs for Two Attorneys. For attorney for the board of local improvements and for city attorney the mayor's patronage board has whittled down the names to half a dozen. The two men slated to land the plum are in this list: William A. Bither, Clarence R. Francis, Harry A. Atwood, Charles Williams, Chester W. Church, and former United States Senator William E. Mason.

The City club submitted to Mayor Thompson the names of persons held to be well qualified to serve on the special parks commission. They are: Miss Dora Allen, Mrs. T. W. Allison, Mrs. Frank Jerome, Mrs. Robert Kohlhammer, Mrs. M. L. Purvin, W. J. Bogan, Benjamin Cable, Howard Elting, E. A. Halsey, Allan Hoben, Jens Jensen, Theodore K. Long, Ralph C. Olin, Dwight H. Perkins, and Henry Stewart.

THIS MAN BITING GANDER MAKES 'EM SPEED UP!

But Excuse of Motorcyclists Falls to Touch Judge, Who Plasters On $15 Fine.

The work of Matthew Rodgers, a clothing store clerk, was so much appreciated by his employer last Thanksgiving day that the employer presented him with two geese. Rodgers had cared for the geese since that time, and when they had grown fat he sold them to William Madison, a resident of Wilmette.

Thursday afternoon Rodgers started with Madison for Wilmette, the two geese being stung in a basket on Madison's back, the two young men riding upon Rodgers' motorcycle. The geese did not enjoy the ride, however, and while the boys were traveling Humboldt boulevard the male member of the flock began to emit squawks, squeezed its head between the wickets of the basket, and began to bite Madison.

"I guess you had better hurry up a little," Madison told his companion. "I don't think I can stand the attacks of the gander much longer."

So Rodgers made haste, and was arrested for speeding by Motorcycle Policeman A. Wandell.

"They offered me a setting of eggs or two geese," the policeman testified, "if I would let them go, but I refused."

Judge Jarecki refused to recognize the excuse tendered by the young men. He fined Rodgers $15 and costs. Rodgers lives at 1623 North Mozart street.

MINISTERS HOLD DIVIDED VIEWS ON HIGHER CRITICISM

Too Much Yielding to Evangelists Who Denounce Scholars as High-brows, Says the Rev. Mr. Magor.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON. Sharp difference of views on the subject of higher criticism led to a lively discussion yesterday at the meeting of Methodist ministers at the Wesley Memorial church, Indiana avenue and East Fifty-sixth street.

"There is not a biblical scholar of standing today who does not believe in the higher criticism of the Bible nor a scientist who does not believe in evolution," said the Rev. Martin J. Magor, pastor of the McCabe Memorial church, Washington avenue and Fifty-fourth street. "We yield too much to the easy going belief in half truths and to the too prevalent evangelist who denounces scholars as 'high-brows.'"

The Rev. E. C. Arnold of Langley Avenue church denied that all scholarship of the universities is arrayed on the side of higher criticism.

"It has been belief in higher criticism," Dr. Arnold said, "which has resulted in the development of the 'kultur' which is being imposed upon the world."

The Rev. Martin E. Cady of Riverside defended the position of Dr. Magor. The Rev. W. A. Frye of Woodlawn Park church denounced higher criticism as lacking in evangelistic fervor and niceness.

WELFARE OF CHILD TOPIC OF PARENTS AT CONVENTION.

Mothers and Teachers Discuss Subject Pro and Con at Ottawa, Ill., Meeting.

Ottawa, Ill., May 13.—[Special.]—The sixteenth annual convention of the Illinois Congress of Mothers and Parent Teachers' association, which convened yesterday afternoon, will close tomorrow afternoon. Two hundred visitors are present.

The child welfare banquet was one of the chief features of the convention. Mrs. William F. Young of Chicago, chairman of the committee on general arrangements for the convention, presided.

Miss Minnie Whitman of Oak Park gave a short talk on "The Father's Luster," while C. H. Kingman, principal of the Ottawa High school, responded to the toast "The Mother's Bloom."

"The Infant Reason" was discussed by Mrs. P. B. Kohlhaas of Winnetka. At the morning session reports of officers and committees were presented. Officers were elected, but the result will not be known until tomorrow.

This afternoon was given over to sightseeing. Forty automobiles were required to take the visiting women to Starved Rock and Deer Park.

O. F. FLEISCHMANN SUICIDE.

WEST HAMMOND MAN FOUND SLAIN IN WOODS.

Tramp Believed to Have Murdered Laborer Whose Body Is Discovered by Women.

Mrs. C. B. Downs, who lives in West One Hundred and Fifty-ninth street, West Hammond, noticed a man lying apparently asleep in a strip of woods near her home on Wednesday afternoon. The man was still there when she passed yesterday morning. He lay in the same position, with upturned face.

Mrs. Downs called several women neighbors and they went to where the man lay. He was dead. His hands and feet were tied. His neck and clothing were blood stained. Mrs. Downs ran back into the house and called the police.

Chief Okraj recognized the body as that of Anton Koshinski, a laborer who had worked around Hammond and West Hammond for the last nine years.

Chief Okraj said at first he believed Koshinski must have become involved in a labor dispute with some of the Italians on the construction gang with whom he worked, but later asserted he believed the man was attacked in the woods by tramps or spies and robbed.

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE.

Who was Marie Dupont?

THOUSANDS of reader-detectives are on her trail! Roger Gavock, back to New York after twenty years' absence, accidentally jostles her on Fifth Avenue. She replies to his apology in French—their eyes meet—whereat she claims herself unable to utter another French word. They part. Gavock is certain they have met before.

That evening! Gavock relates the curious incident to Guy Amarinth, son of an old friend. Not knowing her identity, the young man declares she conceals French associations because of fearful shame. Amarinth tells of the adorable girl he hopes to marry. He leaves the room. On his desk Gavock sees her picture. It is Marie Dupont!

Gavock, stunned, accompanies them to the dance. In the coming installment you ask yourself: Why should Marie Dupont's dance electrify even her closest friends? What devil-born recklessness makes her consent to run out and marry Amarinth during the intermission? Do you connect it with the terror-stricken face of the orchestra leader? With the unaccountable consternation that swept the whole room? Untangle this mystery and value your thrills at

'MOTHER' JONES TELLS OF AID TO 'BOYS' ON STRIKE

Industrial Board Paves Way to Hear Her Cure for Unrest; Haywood Again on Stand.

Washington, D. C., May 13.—(Tribune)—Takes of industrial wars from Pennsylvania to California, during the last thirty-five years were recounted before the federal industrial commission today by Mrs. Mary Jones, the "Mother" Jones of scores of strikes.

"Mother" Jones told the history of her connection with industrial disturbances, preliminary to her examination regarding causes and cures for unrest which will be undertaken tomorrow.

The commission today heard Prof. Frank J. Goodnow, president of Johns Hopkins university, and Harry A. Cyphers of South Bethlehem, Pa., on the treatment of labor in the courts, and concluded the examination of William D.

Haywood of the Industrial Workers of the World.

No Government in 100 Years?
Commissioner Wainstock continued his examination of Haywood and developed that when the "general strike to which the I. W. W. looks forward as a means of revolutionizing society had taken place there would be no government, state or national.

"The workers of the country," Haywood said, "would be organized into industries instead of cities and states."

As a citizen of industry every worker, man, woman, and child, would have a voice in fixing the conditions under which he would work. At present labor has practically no voice in the affairs of the country.

But you cannot change the whole world overnight," Commissioner Wainstock said. "What are you going to do in the meantime?"

"It may not come for 100 years," replied Haywood. "Meantime we will keep plunging along with this class struggle, hoping for the great change tomorrow, but working for it, even if it takes a century."

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman asked Haywood why, if he opposed war, he favored a violent measure in other disputes.

"The working class is the only class entitled to any consideration," the witness replied, "and as I have said, I believe any tactics that will accomplish our purposes are right."

"Mother" Jones on Stand.

"Mother" Jones was the next witness. When Chairman Walsh asked her residence she replied:

"I reside wherever there is a good fight against wrong. I live wherever the workers are fighting the robbers."

Beginning with the Pennsylvania railroad strike at Pittsburgh in 1897, "Mother" Jones told of her efforts to help "the boys" in their various "fights." She told of leading an "army" about from mine to mine in the Pennsylvania coal strike of 1900, "pulling out" the men at work.

She related a long story of strikes in West Virginia, Maryland, and Colorado. She described night marches with bands of strikers, battles with the militia, and of caring for strikers, killed and wounded, in strike riots.

The witness told of being carried out of Colorado by militiamen and of hurrying back on the heels of the escort that took her to the state line.

She described the horrors of industrial war and at times tears streamed from her eyes as she told of the treatment of men, women, and children.

JURY DISAGREES ON KILLING

Unable to Decide on Guilt of Charles Williams, Who Shot Detective Sergeant.

A jury in Judge Kersten's court yesterday failed to agree upon the guilt or innocence of Charles Williams who shot and killed Detective Sergeant William Rosenstreter in front of Goldman Bros. saloon, 600 North State street, Nov. 8, 1914, and was discharged. Williams had kicked in a plate glass window. When Rosenstreter and Detective Sergeant Edward Baynes, approached Williams he drew a revolver and shot the officer through the throat. The evidence failed to show that the detectives announced that they were officers. Williams testified he thought the detectives were hold-up men.

QUARREL OVER AMUSEMENTS; ATTORNEY'S WIFE ENDS LIFE

Mrs. Henry L. Williford Jr., Apparently Unbalanced After Motherhood, Found Asphyxiated.

A quarrel between Attorney Henry L. Williford Jr. and his wife, Anna C. Williford, regarding the people they should associate with and the place of amusement they should attend, it is said, caused her to asphyxiate herself early yesterday. The coroner's jury found she committed suicide while temporarily insane.

The argument started in their apartment at 5488 East End avenue Wednesday night and Williford left. Mrs. Williford put her three little daughters, ranging from 3 to 8 years, to bed, and went to another apartment, the key to which she held while the family was absent. Williford returned, he testified, and presumed his wife was spending the night with friends.

When he awoke he phoned to friends and then searched the building. Mrs. Williford was found lying upon a bed. He testified his wife was temporarily out of her mind and had been extremely nervous since the birth of their last child. Mr. Williford is attorney for Albert Pick & Co.

Strawberries and Shredded Wheat

For the up-and-coming, live, energetic fellow—the fellow with snap and gimp and brains—there's no better food on earth than Thompson's ripe, red strawberries with Shredded Wheat and cream.

Shredded Wheat puts iron in your blood, builds muscle and generates brain power—and brain power is what you and I need more than anything else. Shredded Wheat is good whole wheat in its most appetizing and nourishing form. It is whole wheat in its most digestible form, and whole wheat is the greatest food Old Mother Nature has ever given the human race.

Big, juicy strawberries not only please your palate but they also send a thrill of gladness through your stomach, your gastric juice factory, your liver and your whole gastronomic works. Feed ripe, red strawberries to a bilious, misanthropic grouch for three days and he'll turn into a rosy optimist and admit that the sun does shine part of the time.

If you want to climb—if you want your share of the good things this world has to give—you've got to get them by means of red blood and brains, and red blood and brains depend on the kind of food you put into your stomach.

Eat Shredded Wheat with strawberries and cream at Thompson's for breakfast. Eat them for lunch. Eat them for supper. Eat them every time you get a chance. In a few weeks more the strawberry season will be over and it'll be a long, long time till next spring.

Look for this PURE FOOD SIGN—
